research in practice

Making the most of research in practice

> Are you a part of our emailXchange?

A message forum for information and support relevant to children and families professionals. Log on at: www.rip.org.uk/emailxchange and recommend it to your colleagues.

> Learning Events

Did you know that every Partner Agency is entitled to an allocation of places on our Learning Events?

Link Officers can place bookings throughout the year. On 21 July 2008 we start allocating places for each event - after that, bookings are taken on a first come, first served basis and waiting lists are also held if events are fully booked.

> Link Officer Annual Meeting

Look out for the Link Officer annual meeting on the 2 and 3 of October, it is a fantastic opportunity to network with other Link Officers and to shape your organisation's investment with research in practice.

> Publications

We send copies of new publications to Link Officers every quarter, but they are also available in full online - many with extra content. You can order additional hard-copies from the website too.

> Get involved...

...by taking up the opportunities to participate in our Change Project work. Throughout the year we call upon our Link Officers for a wide range of advice and feedback that helps to create the work we do - and it can have a direct impact on the work of your own organisation.

> www.rip.org.uk

Don't forget to remind your colleagues throughout the whole of children's services of their login details so they can access all the resources on: www.rip.org.uk - some Link Officers have it as part of their email signature. To find out about login details write to: ask@rip.org.uk

Ensure your agency is getting the full benefit of being a research in practice Partner, by going to wwww.rip.org.uk/makingthemost and completing the self-audit tool.
